Stage One is very sorry that we have had to postpone, yet again, our next production of the 2 One Act Plays. You can imagine how frustrating this is for those in the cast who had ironed their tights, blackened their teeth and shaved various parts of their bodies in preparation for treading the boards for the ecstasy of our audiences. Rest assured that these stalwart mummies are holding themselves poised and ready like a Grand National winner, for the moment when the government blows the starting whistle. In addition, we are also thinking ahead to our future programmes and what our best way of bringing live theatre to the Pafos area will be in the months and years to come. Choice of plays is clearly a central issue and the committee of taste has already been pondering this question. They have rejected such untried classics as Gone With The Wind To The Loo, An Inspector Calls Me Madam, Julius! Seize Her!, and A Midsummer Night's Party on the Beach With Masks. Ben Hur On Ice nearly made it but was rejected on grounds of temperature as was Love in a Cold Climax. But we do have other goodies in the pipeline and Alan Bennett's superb adaptation of Wind in the Willows is our hoped-for Christmas production.

It is, of course, impossible to be sure when we will be able to open again but we are hopeful that the current lockdown and vaccination programme will allow a way for audiences to attend indoor events before too long. But in the meantime keep an eye out for any poor depressed thespians, possibly sitting outside LIDL's playing 5 notes on an accordion. Don't pass them by – give them a smack round the back of the head and tell them to get a life.

Keep smiling and support live theatre! Doug Craig, Production Manager

Social Events coming up...

Lindy is pleased to advise you that she is proposing to arrange a meal in a taverna, hopefully very soon, subject to regulations in force.
